Ingegnere, scienziato, filosofo, architetto e pittore, Leonardo da Vinci è la figura che meglio rappresenta l'ideale, rinascimentale e non solo, del genio universale. Ma, paradossalmente, la poliedricità dei suoi interessi ha finito per sminuire agli occhi dei moderni la grandezza della sua arte, spesso letta soltanto alla luce della sua straordinaria vitalità creativa. Questo saggio con andamento narrativo e con un taglio davvero accessibile a tutti - si propone di ripercorrere, a partire dai dati storici e biografici, l'opera pittorica di Leonardo: dal suo primo disegno firmato, datato 1473, all'apprendistato presso la bottega del Verrocchio, dall'attenzione per i modelli fiamminghi, evidente nel ritratto di Ginevra de' Benci, fino alla perfezione formale del Cenacolo e della Gioconda, senza dimenticare le ultime opere attribuite al maestro o alla sua cerchia, come il misterioso San Giovanni Battista-Bacco conservato al Louvre. La ricostruzione della vicenda stilistica è supportata da un ricco e puntuale corredo iconografico.
